

Owning Your Development

Think about how you want to grow and advance in your role and beyond. Reflect on your career aspirations and what additional experiences you would like to try to expand your skills and knowledge. Collect your thoughts and schedule time to discuss your development interests with your manager.

What makes it easy to grow and advance in a hybrid working environment?

What makes it difficult to grow and advance in a hybrid working environment?

How can you and your manager accelerate your development?

What strengths can you lean into, and how?

“If it’s to be, it’s up to me!”